Genealogical Books In Print

Dear Advertiser:

We are happy to be able to advise you that—at last—the 4th edition of Genealogical & Local History Books in Print is at the printers! It will be off the press July 17. Those of you who have ordered a copy should get it by the end of July as the mailing labels are all prepared and the books will be sent straight from the printer.

We are sorry it took so long to prepare this work. It turned out to be larger than we had anticipated. There are 868 pages per volume; a total of 1,736 pages. We told you in a previous letter that it would have over 15,000 titles, but when a final count was made, it came to over 30,000!

Because we know you are anxious to see your ads, we have made photocopies of the manuscript pages and are enclosing them rather than waiting to send tear sheets. The page(s) your ad(s) appear on are enclosed. Please do not be distressed by the lines and marks picked up on the photocopier, nor the uneven inking. The printer's camera eliminates the imperfections and it is our photocopier that is to be blamed for the uneven appearance of the ink.

We took much care with the space ads. We want—as much as you do—for all potential buyers to see each ad. If you did not specify where you wanted your ad to be placed, we placed it as much as possible in the area where books were being advertised on that subject. We hope you are pleased both with the appearance of your ad and with its placement. Please check your ad for typos. Should an error be found, we will correct it in the next printing. Point out any such errors immediately as we expect to go back to press shortly.

Some of the persons who placed space ads have written to ask where their "free book" was. We spelled out clearly, we thought, that vendors received a free book as a result of paying a $20.00 initial fee, but advertisers did not. We offered advertisers a special rate of $20.00 plus $2.50 postage & handling; we will honor this price until July 17—for those who have not already taken advantage of it. [The retail price is $27.50 + $2.50.] Send a check for $22.50 by return mail if you wish to order the set at the reduced price.

Thank you for advertising in G&LHBIP. We hope you will be greatly benefited by having done so.

Sincerely,

Netti Schreiner-Yantis
